MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.

The next annual course of instruction in this Department (now in the fortieth year of its existence) will commence on Monday the 17th day of November,* 1873, and terminate on Saturday the 14th day of March, 1874. Preliminary Lectures on Clinical Medicine and Surgery will be delivered in the amphitheatre of the Charity Hospital, beginning on the 20th of October, without any charge to students.

The means of teaching now at the command of the faculty are unsurpassed in the United States; and are quite as complete as those of many of the renowned schools of medicine abroad. As evidence of this, it may be stated that, in addition to the regular didactic lectures given by the several Professors, there is attached to each separate chair, a Practical Department, in which students can observe and verify for themselves the facts inculcated and discussed in the lecture room. It is to this peculiar feature of the University, and its unequalled hospital advantages, that the faculty would direct the attention of those engaged in the study of medicine, and of those who, having graduated elsewhere, desire to perfect themselves in any particular branch of the profession.

DIDACTIC LECTURES.

Systematic didactic instruction in the various branches will be given daily in the central building of the University, situated on Common street, between Baronne and Dryades streets. The means for illustrating this course consist of models in wood, wax, plaster, and papier mache of rare and beautiful workmanship, executed in London, Paris and Florence expressly for the University; a complete series of specimens in materia medica; surgical and obstetrical instruments and appliances; specimens in morbid anatomy; and an entire set of chemical and philosophical apparatus.

The Museum comprising these collections has been re-arranged and classified, and is accessible to students and visitors at all hours of the day.

LIBRARY AND READING ROOMS.

The large building known as the East Wing of the University, having been appropriated to and connected with the Medical Department, the Faculty have succeeded in establishing therein a Free Library and Reading Room for the use of students and physicians. The spacious hall selected for this purpose now contains a large collection of books already in possession of the college, which are thus made accessible to those who may desire to consult them.

*In case an epidemic of yellow fever should occur during the summer, students may, nevertheless, have no hesitation in coming to the city at the time here designated. During the thirty-nine years of the existence of the institution no student has been known to die of yellow fever during attendance upon lectures.

CLINICAL INSTRUCTION.

The act establishing the University of Louisiana gives the professors of the Medical Department the use of the Charity Hospital as a school of practical instruction.

The Charity Hospital contains nearly 700 beds, and received during the last year 6,637 patients. Its advantages for professional study are unequalled by any similar institution in this country. The medical, surgical and obstetric wards are visited daily by the respective professors in charge, from 8 to 10 o'clock, A. M., at which time all the students are expected to attend and familiarize themselves, at the bed-side of the patients, with the diagnosis and treatment of all forms of injury and disease.

Special instruction is given to the candidates for graduation, who are, for this purpose, divided by the Dean of the Faculty into classes, and assigned to the respective professors in charge of wards in the hospital. The classes thus formed interchange courses so as to enable the candidates to enjoy equal advantages. Thoroughly competent Chiefs of Clinic will aid the Clinical Teachers in developing to its full extent this system of instruction. Students who are not candidates for graduation make the daily hospital rounds with any of the clinical teachers. The following professors and their respective Chiefs of Clinic will be on duty during the ensuing session :

Prof. T. G. RICHARDSON, M. D.....	E. SOUCHON, M. D.
" S. M. BEMISS, M. D.....	L. S. McMURTRY, M. D.
" F. HAWTHORN, M. D.....	GEO. N. MONETTE, M. D.
" JOSEPH JONES, M. D.....
" SAMUEL LOGAN, M. D.....	A. W. DEROLDES, M. D.

The regular lectures at the hospital, on Clinical Medicine by Professors Bemiss and Joseph Jones, Surgery by Professors Richardson and Logan, Diseases of Women and Children by Professor Hawthorn, and Special Pathological Anatomy by Professor Chaillé will be delivered in the amphitheatre on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday, from 10 to 12 o'clock, A. M.

Post-mortem examinations are made in the presence of the class.

V. GRIMA, M. D., will give Clinical instruction daily on diseases of the eye, and lecture in the amphitheatre.

REQUISITES FOR GRADUATION,

- I.—The candidate must be twenty-one years of age, of good moral character, and must present to the Dean a certificate from his private preceptor, or exhibit other satisfactory evidence that he has been engaged in the study of medicine for three years, inclusive of attendance upon lectures.

II.—He must have attended two complete courses of lectures in a generally recognized medical college, the last of which must have been in this institution.

III.—He must write a Thesis on a medical subject, and present it to the Dean one month before the close of the session.

IV.—He must pass a satisfactory examination before the Faculty.

TERMS.

For the Tickets of all the Professors.....	$140 00
For the Ticket of Practical Anatomy.....	10 00
Matriculation Fee.....	5 00
Graduation Fee.....	30 00

It will be noticed that the fees of the Department remain the same as those of the leading medical schools of New York and Philadelphia. Considering the unusual opportunities offered for practical instruction, and the pains-taking, care and labor bestowed upon the pupils, the charges are reasonably low; and the Faculty therefore appeal to their professional brethren throughout the South and West to continue their support to an institution which they may rest assured will never yield to the degrading influences of pecuniary rivalry so long as the present professors retain their respective chairs.

Graduates of other recognized schools may attend all the lectures upon payment of the matriculation fee; but they will not be admitted as candidates for the Diploma of the University except upon the terms required of second course students. All fees are payable in advance.

TEXT BOOKS.

Tyler Smith's or Byford's Midwifery.

Marshall's Outlines of Physiology.

Druitt's or Gross's Surgery.

Fowne's or Graham's Chemistry.

Ringer's or Waring's Therapeutics and U. S. Dispensatory.

Headland's Action of Medicines.

Watson's or Niemeyer's Practice of Medicine.

Richardson's or Gray's Anatomy.

Green's Morbid Anatomy, Rindfleisch's Pathological Histology.

Boarding and lodging are as cheap in New Orleans as in any other large city. The janitor resides in the University building, and will aid students in procuring apartments.

The Administrators of the Charity Hospital elect annually in March, twelve Resident Students, who are maintained by the institution.

T. G. RICHARDSON, M. D.,

New Orleans, June, 1873.

Dean of the Faculty.

GRADUATES-1873.

At a public commencement, held March 15th, 1873, the degree of DOCTOR OF MEDICINE was conferred upon the following Graduates by the Hon. RANDELL HUNT, LL.D., President of the University. The salutatory address was delivered by Professor SAMUEL LOGAN, M. D., and the valedictory by LOUIS S. McMURTRY, M. D., of Kentucky.
